

2018 LSI Blockchain Speaker Series

The Center for Law, Science & Innovation (LSI) will host a CLE lunch series on blockchain and the law this spring, featuring blockchain industry leaders and CEOs, legislators and policy experts, legal practitioners, and more:

Location: Beus Center for Law & Society, 111 E. Taylor St., Phoenix AZ

Time: 12:00-1:30 pm, lunch provided, CLE credit available (1 hour per session)

RSVP for each event here: www.asulawcle.com/live

Free registration and CLE credit, with special thanks to our sponsors and partners

January 17: Blockchain Basics

Speakers will explain the basics of blockchain and the legal aspects of this emerging technology. Attendees will also learn about Arizona's regulatory environment and the local blockchain community.

- Caroline Lynch (Copper Hill Strategies)
- Mark Goldstein (Int'l Research Center)
- Jay Carpenter (Desert Blockchain)

February 21: Legislative and Policy Perspectives

Hear from legislators and policy experts at the state and federal levels about their work on blockchain policy and the future of blockchain regulation.

- Congressman David Schweikert (Congressional Blockchain Caucus)
- State Rep. Jeff Weninger (Sponsor of Arizona's Smart Contracts Law)
- Chief Counsel Paul Watkins (Civil Litigation Division, Arizona Attorney General's Office)

March 21: CEOs and Industry Leaders

Entrepreneurs and visionaries working in the local blockchain community will discuss their innovative uses of blockchain technology and the legal challenges they face.

- Scott Nelson (Founder and CEO – Sweetbridge)
- Ryan Taylor (CEO – Dash)
- Jaycen Horton (Co-Founder – Nori)

April 18: Legal Practitioners

Practitioners will discuss representing clients in the blockchain industry and how blockchain technology will change the business and practice of law.

- Scott Henderson (Founder - NewLAWu.s.)
- Bryce Suzuki (Managing Partner – Bryan Cave)
- Joshua Boehm (Associate – Perkins Coie)

For more information, contact LSI Director Lauren Burkhart (lauren.burkhart@asu.edu).

Special thanks to our sponsors:

